TWELVE-YEAR ROMANCE CULMINATES IN WEDDING

Miss Wilhelmina Graue Becomes the Bride of Rudolph J. Boehs, Naval Electrician.

The marriage last night of Miss Wilhelmina Graue of this city and Rudolph J. Boehs, first-class electrician, United States navy, was the culmination of a romance that has existed between the couple since their childhood days, and which was not interrupted when the young man entered the navy three years ago.

Boehs and Miss Graue were confirmed together seven years ago, after having been childhood sweethearts for five years. Their friendship dating back to the time when Boehs was ten years old and his bride was only eight in pinafores.

When the young man grew up and entered the navy the friendship continued, and Boehs found at every port where his ship, the South Carolina, touched, letters from his girl in Washington. Finally in one of his replies he asked the girl who had occupied his thoughts for nearly twelve years to become Mrs. Boehs.

The ceremony was performed last night in Trinity Lutheran Church, 4th and E streets, Rev. H. Schroeder officiating. A reception of the bride and groom by parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graue, 65 Quincy place northwest, followed. The couple left today for a bridal trip to Virginia Beach.

AUTHORITIES MAKE WAR ON THE PLAGUE CARRIERS

Porto Ricans and Cubans in Crusade Against Rats—Malady Is Unabated.

The bubonic plague situation in Porto Rico and Cuba is reported to the public health and marine hospital service today as unchanged. A patient at Havana afflicted with the disease died last night.

From San Juan, P. R., it was announced there were no cases yesterday. The war on plague-carrying rats is going on everywhere throughout the two islands and at all American ports where vessels trading with the West Indies touch. At Havana 176 rats were killed yesterday. On none of them was any suspicion of plague found.

Bubonic plague has made its appearance at Port of Spain, Trinidad. The American consul there today reported one case had developed.

Pays Bounty for Rats.

The health commissioner of Norfolk, Va., has appointed six official rat catchers and a bounty of 5 cents for every rat killed. At New Orleans a joint plan has been adopted for the collection, examination and destruction of rats.

The health authorities of the state of Louisiana and the city of New Orleans will co-operate with officials of the United States public health service.

Case Authenticated.

HAVANA, July 12.—The bacteriological examination of the case of suspected bubonic plague admitted to the hospital of the Association of Commercial Clerks yesterday afternoon proved conclusively that it is one of true bubonic plague. The patient died during the night.

This is the second authenticated case of bubonic plague recorded here, and some further suspects are under observation.

FINED FOR HITTING WIFE.

"Hanging" Around Wharves No Justification, Judge Rules.

The mere fact that a man's wife "hangs" about the steamboat wharves and does not come home until the "wee sma' hours" is no provocation for the husband to punch her eyes. So ruled Judge Aukam in the United States branch of the Police Court today, when he fined Wilson Herbert $10 for striking his wife, Sarah Herbert, several nights ago.

Herbert testified that his wife had been "running about" down at the steamboat wharves, leaving him to get his own meals when he came home for lunch in the middle of the night from his work. He remonstrated with his wife, he said, for leaving their eleven-year-old daughter alone at such a time and for not having her meals ready. She told him, he said, that it was none of his business. Then came the blows.

Judge Aukam explained that there were courts for the purpose of settling such difficulties and that he did not have to live with his wife if she did not behave, but that he must not hit her. Herbert promised not to repeat the offense.

Parade Ends Elks' Convention.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—Fifteen thousand members of the Elks participated in the annual parade of the Grand Lodge yesterday, while many thousands of spectators cheered the marchers. Lodges from every state in the Union and the island territories were represented. Except in the competitive drill, for which the first prize of $500 went to Denver, Colo., the victors of the contests in connection with the parade were residents of the Pacific coast. By holding a session last evening, which the newly elected officers were installed the Grand Lodge was able to finish its business and adjourn.

PAYS THE COLONEL

La Follette Assails Roosevelt for Actions in Chicago.

SAYS SELFISHNESS RULED

Former President Served the Man, Not Cause, He Says—Highly Lauds Bryan.

Under the caption, "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," Senator La Follette has written the following editorial in the current number of La Follette's Weekly:

"Bryan at Baltimore, foregoing all chance of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts, to rescue his party from their domination, carrying the convention for the adoption of the most progressive democratic platform yet offered, and the nomination of the most progressive democratic candidate available, was a towering figure of moral power and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness.

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock-watering operations of the steel trust and the harvest trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been fake contests as to nearly two hundred delegates in order to control the republican convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to aid in making a strong progressive platform, to have the nomination or destroy the republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition.

Was Serving the Man.

"Roosevelt had as great an opportunity to serve the progressive cause at Chicago as Bryan had at Baltimore. But Roosevelt was serving the man, not the cause. He wanted one thing—he wanted the nomination. And yet he did not have enough votes to nominate himself upon any honest basis. He had to have enough delegates in that convention ultimately to have nominated a real progressive and adopted a strong progressive platform. He could even have nominated Hadley on such a platform, and progressive republicans would have supported Hadley as much the same spirit as hundreds of thousands of them will now support Wilson. Neither Hadley nor Wilson is a veteran in the progressive ranks. Neither of them has been tried by the severest tests. Both appear to be men of high ideals whose records, though short, give promise.

Orders Maneuvers.

"But Roosevelt would not consider Hadley. He would have no one but himself. At the first suggestion of Hadley, he ordered the third party maneuvers, lest he lose his followers.

"If he has the evidence to prove that Taft could not have supported Hadley for nomination, why did he not direct his lieutenants to present that evidence to the nomination? Why did he have the convention and the country so clearly that the convention would not have dared to nominate Taft, and that Taft could not, in honor, have accepted the nomination, if made.

The reason is obvious. An analysis of the testimony will show that neither Taft nor Roosevelt had a majority of honestly or regularly elected delegates. This Taft managers upon both sides well understood. Each candidate was trying to seat a sufficient number of fraudulently credited delegates, added to those regularly chosen to support him, to secure control of the convention, and 'steal' the nomination. It was a proceeding which each was well understood, and which each had sanctioned in prior conventions.

Explains His Conduct.

"This explains the extraordinary conduct of Roosevelt. He could not enter upon such an analysis of the evidence as would prove Taft's regularly elected delegates in the minority, without inevitably subjecting his own spuriously credited delegates to an examination so critical as would expose the falsity of his own contention that he had an honestly elected majority of the delegates.

"He therefore deliberately chose to claim everything, to cry fraud, to bully the national committee and the convention, and having thus created a condition which would make impossible a calm investigation of claims upon merit, carry the convention by storm.

"That this is the true psychology of the proceeding becomes perfectly plain. He was then to force his own nomination or smash the convention. He was not there to preserve the integrity of the republican party, and make an instrument for the promotion of progressive principles and the restoration of government of the people. Otherwise he would have directed his floor managers to contest every inch of the ground for a progressive platform before the committee on resolutions and in the open convention.

Compared to Bryan.

"But Mr. Roosevelt was not governed by a suggestion of that spirit of high patriotic and unselfish purpose of which Bryan furnished such a magnificent example one week later in the democratic convention at Baltimore. Instead, he filled the public ear with sound and fury. He ruthlessly sacrificed everything to the one idea of his being the one candidate. He gagged his followers in the convention without putting on record any facts upon which the public could base a definite intelligent judgment regarding the validity of Taft's nomination. He submitted no suggestion as to a platform of progressive principles. He claimed victory for himself and the party, and for purging the convention roll of tainted delegates, without purging his own candidacy of his tainted contests and his tainted trust support. He offered no reason for a third party excepting his own ever-mastering craving for a third term."

Estate Valued at $12,000.

The will of Mrs. Henrietta J. Hunter, filed today, disposes of an estate valued at $12,000. A bequest of $200 is made to Hattie Shippen as a token of kindness to the deceased. The sum of $400 is left to Lucille Hunter of St. Louis, Mo. The remaining estate is devised to her sister, Josephine T. Bradford, of Philadelphia, and the latter's daughters, Blanche B. Dorsey and Mary A. Bradford, in equal shares. The document was executed December 1, 1908, and names George C. Gertman as executor.

FACTS WHICH EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW

Facts which every woman should know are those just given out by an eminent Austrian scientist, who declares that of excessive, over-perseverance of arm-pits is the symptom of a disease of the nerves controlling the perspiration glands called hyperhidrosis. This condition is a hyper-sensitiveness of the nerves which supply the glands, and is easily corrected by applying locally a nerve sedative to lessen their excitability. Odo-oro is such a sedative, an antiseptic that restores the glands to normal, leaving only a natural condition.

Odo-oro is a delicate toilet lotion that is effective from two applications, rendering dress shields, which are expensive, uncomfortable and do not protect clothing perfectly, unnecessary and out of date.

Odo-oro is only sold at first-class toilet counters.

Home of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

The above illustration shows the magnitude of The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co.'s plant, at Waterloo, N. Y. and the executive offices of the concern at Rochester, N. Y. This manufacturing plant is the largest and most complete of its kind in the land, occupying over 15 acres. It is equipped with every up-to-date device, known to the art. There are immense duplicate warehouses a great distance apart, so in case of fire in one warehouse, the trade can be supplied and the high quality and excellence maintained.

How It Is Made—What It Does

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is manufactured from specially selected and cleaned grain, the best that can be bought. Only the purest spring water is used at any stage. Every step in the process of malting and manufacture is watched most carefully by men of broad experience, under the supervision of a chief chemist. Great care is exercised to have every kernel thoroughly malted, producing a liquid food, tonic and stimulant, requiring no digestion, in the form of a medicinal whiskey, which has been for over 50 years and is to-day, the world's greatest medicine.

Taken as directed, it brings into action all the vital forces; it makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains, thus building up the nerve tissues, toning up the heart, giving power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It is a promoter of good health and longevity; makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.
